Do Everything You Can

Air Date: October 24, 2018

Ron: When two elephants fight, it's the grass that suffers.

Announcer: For FamilyLife Blended®, here's Ron Deal.

Ron: Yes, kids of divorce have a few bumps and bruises but kids can fare reasonably well long term if their parents put aside their differences and cooperate as co-parents. The alternative is for parents to argue and fight. The more they do the more wounded their kids become. It's the grass that suffers, right?

So, here is the bottom line. Co-Parenting is not about you. It's about what is best for your kids. For you to manage it well you may have to keep forgiving and set aside what you think is fair for you. For their sake, you can do this. You have to do this and we'd like to help. For FamilyLife Blended I'm Ron Deal.
