

FamilyLife Blended® Radio Transcript

References to conferences, resources, or other special promotions may be obsolete.

Autism and Blended Families

Air Date: April 2, 2020

Ron: Ron, how does autism affect a stepfamily?

Announcer: For FamilyLife Blended®, here's Ron Deal.

Ron: Blending two families is challenging for many. It's even more challenging with a child on the autism spectrum because they have rigid routines and struggle to connect emotionally. Now, bonding and connecting is what a blended family is trying to do so where does that leave a stepparent with an autistic stepchild? Or stepsiblings who don't understand why so many things have to be centered on the autistic child.

Well, you have to move slowly as a family, make changes very carefully, and lower your expectations for emotional bonding. Our free online article on Autism and the Blended Family has more practical suggestions. But know this, merging is not impossible but you do have to get equipped. For FamilyLife Blended I'm Ron Deal.

Announcer: To find out more visit familylifeblended.com.

FamilyLife Blended with Ron Deal is a production of FamilyLife. Help for today. Hope for tomorrow.

We are so happy to provide these transcripts to you. However, there is a cost to produce them for our website. If you've benefited from the broadcast transcripts, would you consider donating today to help defray the costs?

Visit <http://www.familylifeblended.com/donate>.

Copyright © 2020 FamilyLife. All rights reserved.

www.FamilyLife.com